| Rationale | The opportunity for postgraduate students to pursue areas of special interest is an integral part of Masters-level studies. Interest in a topic or issue may not be satisfied by other units within the course, or may arise out of them, and students may wish to pursue their interest further, yet not at the level of a research dissertation.
This unit has been designed to meet this need within the area of Issues of Educational Leadership. Students will read more widely on an issue and will engage in some independent research, with an emphasis on self-directed study.
It is expected that the unit will assist in the professional and personal growth of the student, and also be of benefit to the school and educational communities. |
Learning outcomes

On completion of this unit, students will have provided evidence that they have:

1. critically reviewed available and relevant literature;
2. designed the study, the methods of exploration/investigation, and the means of reporting – via a report, journal, article, research paper or presentation to a group – together with any appropriate supplementary materials;
3. engaged in the implementation of the study, with evaluation, review and critique;
4. demonstrated appropriate communication and reporting skills; and
5. communicated at an appropriate tertiary standard, with special attention to design elements, grammars, usage, logical relations, style, referencing and presentation.

Content

- Initial reading to guide the development of the study proposal.
- Preparation and presentation of a study proposal for negotiation and approval.
- Completion of a review of appropriate literature related to the topic and the methods of investigation to be employed.
- Development of a negotiated contract for carrying out the study, including forms of reporting and timeline.
- Carrying out of the investigation and/or trial.
- Reporting on the investigation/trial with appropriate recommendations and evaluation.
- Final report on the investigation/trial submitted.

Assessment tasks

Task 1: Project report

- Word length/Duration: 6000 words
- Weighting: 100%
- Learning outcomes: 1-6
- Assessed: Y - 2015, S - 1, W - 15

Specialist resource requirements

- Computer, webcam, microphone and speakers with access to a reliable high-speed internet connection, preferably broadband.
- Freely available email and SKYPE teleconferencing software will be used for electronic communications and teleconferencing.

Prescribed text(s)

- Students will undertake their own literature searches in the process of their chosen independent study program.
- An Annotated Bibliography or Literature Review is normally required as part of the independent study requirements. These will include a wide range of academic literature as well as relevant journals and useful web-sites.
